I would like to strongly argue that Lord Howe Island remains part of the Port Macquarie electorate. The supply vessel comes from Port Macquarie, there is a regular flight from Port Macquarie and Lord Howe Island has more in common with Port Macquarie than Lord Howe and Sydney.

The present local member is regularly available for residents on Lord Howe.

Most Lord Howe Island residents buy their supplies from shops in Port Macquarie.

The police on Lord Howe are part of the mid north coast command and the lord Howe Island Board has an MOU with the Port Macquarie Hastings Council.
